1. PRODUCT FEATURES

1. No light source is generated during heating, creating a warm and cozy environment for pets. Especially when used at night, it does not generate a light source that interrupts the pet's sleep cycle, but only a light source with heat radiation so that your pets can feel the warmth of the sun.
2. Rapid Heating: Ten seconds after switching on the ceramic heating lamp, the temperature rises rapidly, and it takes only 3 to 5 minutes to reach the rated temperature. In addition, heat conduction is steady and energy-saving, and the thermal efficiency is higher than that of conventional heating lamps.
3. Sturdy and Durable: The sturdy and durable Hygger zoo reptile pet heating lamp is made of thick, heat-resistant terra cotta. Its housing is sturdier and more durable than regular heating lamps. Under normal use, it can last 10,000 to 20,000 hours. It uses a standard E26 lamp base, 110V-120V voltage, and is easy to install.
4. Safety Instructions: Use a high-quality ceramic lamp base. When heating reptile pets, please adjust the distance between the lamp and pets or flammable objects, 11.8 inches or more is the optimal distance; too close and the pet's habitat will be overheated. Caution: Do not turn the heat lamp on and off frequently. Do not turn on the heating lamp again immediately after turning it off. Because of the lamp's high surface temperature, do not test the temperature with your hand to avoid burns.
5. Various Applications: This heating lamp is perfect for reptiles and other amphibious terrariums, keeping them comfortable even in cold weather. It can also be used in poultry hatcheries to incubate and keep eggs and chicks warm.
